Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy.

Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

STORMS IN THE SOUTH.

Telephonic and telegraph communication received at Memphis yesterday from points in Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee, for a distance of several hundred miles, report that territory to have suffered Saturday night and early yesterday from a destructive rain and wind storm.

Only meager details are as yet obtainable, but five lives are known to be lost and great damage has been done to property and crops. Railroad traffic from Memphis is demoralized by numerous washouts, and many trains have been annulled.

From the reports so far received, the greatest damage occurred in the central and delta regions of Mississippi.

At Winona, Miss., the Catholic, the Christian and the African Methodist Churches and the Hesty brickyard were demolished and many buildings unroofed and damaged.

At Mathison, Miss., serious damage is reported to have occurred. A woman was killed by a falling building.

At Tehula a falling tree striking a small frame building caused it to be set on fire, burning a woman and a child to death.

At Noncennah creek, a few miles from Memphis, a railroad trestle fell under the weight of a switch engine, the engine plunging into the swollen stream, carrying with it Engineer C. V. Peterson and Fireman A. R. Ritchie, who were drowned.

West Point, Columbus and Nahini, Miss., are reported to have suffered serious damage, but as these points are cut off from communication it is impossible to verify the report.

Much of the northern half of Mississippi was cut off from telegraphic communication with New Orleans all of yesterday, poles and wires going down in Saturday night's storm.

Reports reached the Western Union Telegraph Company at New Orleans, that the storm was of cyclonic intensity in the region of Winona and Grenada, and that several buildings and one church had been damaged or blown down at Winona, while Grenada suffered still greater damage.

Canton, a town about 65 miles sonth of Winona and the nearest point to the latter place reached from New Orleans, reported that nothing whatever had been heard of Winona since the storm. Canton was swept by a heavy wind shortly before daybreak, the worst of this blow appearing to have passed farther north.

In New Orleans the storm made itself felt by the highest temperature for this season on record during the past 10 years. The mercury rose above 80°, causing extreme discomfort. A high wind accompanied the heat.

Murderers in the Garden of Death.

Juan Aldige, the proprietor of a gambling den at Tenaflor, Spain, and Manuel Monoz, his assistant, were executed at Seville on Friday on six charges of murder. Aldige enticed innumerable travelers to his house, which stood in an isolated place, and fleeced them by cheating at cards. The victims who protested against his play, or otherwise showed that they had discovered his trickery, were killed by Aldige with a hammer and their bodies buried in his garden. The condemned men shocked even the jailers by their calousness, and when on the scaffold laughed and joked with each other.

Monoz talked continually, and when the priest begged him to keep silence, during the reading of certain prayers, the criminal replied: "I am going to talk as long as I have the chance, for I shall be dead a long time." Both men were garrotted in the usual manner. When the collar was placed in the usual manner. When the collar was placed sround Aldige's neck, he shouted: "One, two, three—go!" and at the last word the executioner turned the screw.

The murders at the Penaflor gambling establishment were discovered by accident. A wealthy man named Rejano, who was a great gambler, disappeared and the police traced him to Aldige's house. A careful examination was made of the premises, and a freshly turned-up mound of earth was noticed in the garden. When excavations were made the body of Rejano was found some feet below the surface. Further excavations were made, and six other bodies were found. The victims had been killed by a single blow of the heavy hammer, delivered from behind which crushed the skull. The garden has been termed the "Garden of Death."

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists, 50c and $1. KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. We believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for chronic kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent, painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I tell every suffering woman about my case." —Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Conyers, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham gives free advice to women; address in confidence, Lynn, Mass.

Will Not Elope.

"We, the undersigned members of the Young Woman's Circle of the First English Luthern Church, do solemnly promise that we will not be parties to any elopements, such as have already become too common in our society. If we should choose such a method of assuming matrimonial bonds, we hereby relinquish all rights to the linen shower which it has been customary to give our newly wedded members."

The above agreement was in Pittsburg on Wednesday signed by fifty-two out the seventy members of the Young Woman's Mission Circle and will be forwarded to the remaining eighteen members for their signatures.

The reason is that last summer no less than twelve church members eloped, and, as it has been a custom of the society to give each newly wedded bride from its number a linen shower, the treasury was seriously embarrassed.

JEWELRY.

is used oftener than almost any other room in the house. That is why it should be made the most comfortable spot, and be pleasingly arranged.

Without cut glass and silverware a dining room makes little impression and is hardly home like. A few pieces tastily arranged will make a better effect than many of them placed indiscriminately.

A silver fern dish puts a finish to the table and livens up the room. A silver set is needed to decorate the sideboard. A few cut glass pieces so arranged as to contrast with the tea set will make the sideboard as it should be. The cut glass required are decanters, berry bowls and fruit dishes. The only other silver piece that should be in evidence is the candelabra.

If you want your dining room to be just so have the bread trays and other trays of silver. Even the crumb tray and scraper should be silver-plated.

The steel knives should have silver-plated handles to match the silver-plated spoons, knives and forks.

If you are not satisfied unless your dining-room is properly fitted, you are undoubtedly particular about your own person. It is just as well that you are. A little attention to your ownself begets attention from others. Wear a diamond ring or two, a locket, watch and chain. As the chain is more in evidence than the watch or the locket, you may as well wear the best there is—the guaranteed Z-K Gold Chain.

Let us fit out the dining-room as well as yourself. Prices very reasonable.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 19, 1906.

THE EXPLOSION of a bomb in St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome yesterday was the most dastardly act that has occurred during this bomb-throwing age. The object of the fiend who placed it in the cathedral was evidently to kill the Pope, and had the latter appeared at the tomb of Clement XIII., as had been announced, he would in all probability have been blown to pieces. Why the bomb-thrower should have picked out Pius X. as an object of his wrath is hard to see. Had he succeeded in his diabolical purpose it would not in any way have obliterated the church on the dogmas it propagates. On the other hand it would doubtless have rendered the disseminators more determined, while all good people would have sympathized with the unfortunate pontiff as well as those of which he is the leader. The outlaw not only made a murderous attack upon a prelate who never did him any harm, but he incidentally imperilled the lives of hundreds of persons who were engaged in devotion to their Creator at the time. We are told that in the latter days men despising dominion (ecclesiastical as well as political) will rise up. It would seem that time has brought such to the fron'.

THE NEW YORK theatrical managers are looking question marks at the city officials. Last night scores of "sacred concerts," as the Sunday night vaudeville entertainments are termed, were raided. While this was going on Rev. Frank M. Goodchild, pastor of the Second Central Baptist Church, was giving the second of his alleged vaudeville sermons. The Central Baptist Church is in the heart of the Tenderloin. Adjacent theatres and music halls proved more alluring than the pastor's best sermons until a week ago when Miss Edith Palmer introduced a whistling solo at the regular service. Last night the church was packed with the curious, looking for an innovation. It came in the form of a series of musical numbers played by Charles Wold, a vaudeville performer, on wine glasses of varying tones. The performance was a hit. It was not raided and the theatrical managers do not understand why such performances enjoy immunity when they are conducted in the name of the church.

MUCH to the chagrin of the administration and the leaders of the republican party Oklahomo was carried by the democrats at the last election. The democrats will, therefore, frame a constitution according to democratic ideas, and will send two democratic senators and three members of the House to Congress. This turn of affairs has so angered the republicans that they now threaten to disbar the new State and they will do so if there is any possible chance of carrying such a scheme through Congress.

ACCORDING to dispatches from Seattle, Wash., some of the crew of the passenger steamer Dix behaved shamefully after that steamer was rammed by the ore steamer Alaska in Puget Sound. They took care of "number one," regardless of the helpless women and children about them, crowding into the boats and leaving mothers and little ones to look after themselves.

MR. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., before his Bible class in New York, yesterday said: "Beware of too much prosperity. It takes a strong man to stand great success. Be glad you have to work for a living. Don't envy those who are rich." Mr. Rockefeller only repeated what was taught many centuries ago in far-away Judea.

BISHOP JOHN J. TIGERT, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, is threatened with blood-poisoning, owing to a chicken bone lodging in his throat. Methodist are proverbial for their fondness of chicken, but it was not thought that it extended to the bones.

THE Standard Oil trust does not seem to mind being prosecuted as it hires its lawyers for a term of years and Mr. Rockefeller rather enjoys seeing them earn their money.

Treasurer—Mrs. L. R. Williams, of Kentucky.

Custodian of Cross of Honor—Mrs. L. H. Raines, of Georgia.

Norfolk, Va., was chosen as the meeting place for the convention, to be held December 2, 1907.

The Pennsylvania Superior Court, in an opinion by Judge Orlady, affirmed the report of the consolidation of Allegheny City with the city of Pittsburg.

Washington, Nov. 19.

Reorganization of the Isthmian Canal Commission has been decided upon by the President as the result of his visit to the Isthmus. Just prior to his leaving Panama he signed the necessary order, the text of which has been cabled here and will be made public this afternoon Chief Engineer John F. Stevens is made a member of the Commission as is also Col. Wm. C. Gorgas, the sanitary expert. Mr. Stevens is placed in direct charge of all the work of actual canal construction on the isthmus. There will be no one appointed to succeed Judge Magoon as Governor of the Canal Zone, but Mr. Reed, who was his principal assistant, becomes the general counsel in charge of all matters concerning the government of the zone with several assistants in charge of the various departments, such as postal affairs, schools, etc., etc., The general effect of the order is to make Chairman Shonts of the Canal Commission supreme in charge of all departments of the canal work.

The Supreme Court of the United States today decided the long dispute concerning jurisdiction between the National Council, Junior Order United American Mchanics of North America, a Pennsylvania corporation, and the State Council of Virginia, of the same name, incorporated in Virginia. The Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the law under which the State Council of Virginia was chartered.

People with small deposits evidently came to their senses over Sunday and few people withdrew their accounts from the Washington Loan & Trust Company this morning. The offices resumed their normal conditions; the flurry was over and there was nothing of unusual incident noticed at the bank. In fact a great many people who had withdrawn their account were eager to deposit again this morning.

The Department of Justice today asked the Supreme Court to dismiss the case, for want of jurisdiction, brought by Rebecca J. Taylor, formerly a clerk in the War Department, to compel Secretary Taft to reinstate her in the public service. Miss Taylor was dismissed in May 1902 because she wrote and had published in a local newspaper an article attacking President Roosevelt.

Yellow fever mosquitoes invaded the army transport Sumner while lying in Havana harbor and caused one case of the disease, an army officer being the sufferer. He was removed to a hospital and recovered. In reporting the occurrence, Surgeon von Ezdorff of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, also says that five new cases of yellow fever were found in Havana between November 10 and 13, besides two at Cruces and one at Santa Clara.

It is officially denied at the Treasury Department and at the Department of Justice that suit is contemplated against the American Smelting and Refining Company, known as the silver trust.

THE METHODISTS.

Shot His Wife.

Frederick Wilkins is locked up at Towson, Mo., on the charges of shooting his wife and Mr. Zachariah Alban. He says that he had no motive, but that it was the outcome of a quarrel between himself and his brother-in law W. H. Garner; that he was under the influence of liquor at the time, and that he must have been suffering from delirium tremens. Wilkins was a well-known farmer of Parkton, and a son of George C. Wilkins, former General Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Baltimore. In a fit of rage on Friday he shot at his brother-in-law, W. H. Garner, and after missing him turned on his wife, who had taken refuge in a butcher wagon with Zachariah Alban and shot at her. Both were wounded.

Jealous Woman's Revenge.

Justice Bridge, at Beaumont, Texas, on Saturday bound Florence Martin over to the grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Ed Byrnes, the complaining witness, is minus a lower lip and his right ear, which the woman, it is alleged, in a fit of rage bit off and stamped upon Wednesday night at Port Arthur, Tex. The woman, who was a sweetheart of Brynes, says she bit off his lip because he had kissed her rival, and his ear because it has listened to that rival's calumny of her. The officers were puzzled as to what charge to perfer. Mayhem was first suggested, but that covers only injury resulting in the loss of a member used for offense or defense. It was finally set down with assault with intent to kill.

Mr. Hearst passed through San Antonio on his way to Monterey, Mexico, where he has mining property.

After declaring that he would never again be a candidate for office, Mr Hearst said:

"I shall continue to live in New York and advocate and support the principles of reform which I have always stood for, but these principles are now sufficiently understood by the general public for it to be no longer necessary for me to be a candidate, and on that account to be attacked with much bitterness. When a man is a candidate for office it seems hard for the people to believe he is sincere in the principles he advocates. I will continue my fight in behalf of the people, but as a private citizen, and not as an office seeker."

A BOMB IN ST. PETER'S.

The outrages of the desperate anarchists' band now terrorizing Italy reached a climax yesterday in the explosion of a bomb in St. Peter's Cathedral, at the Vatican in Rome, just at the conclusion of the morning mass. The Pope was at his noonday devotion in his apartments at the time. That an attempt upon the life of the Pontifi had been planned is evident. A rumor had spread abroad that he intended to visit the cathedral yesterday to pray before the tomb of Clement XIII., where the outrage was committed, and the anarchists at Rome placed the bomb, with a longtime fuse attached. The Pope however, remained in his private apartments.

The vast edifice was crowded, and an indescribable scene of confusion followed the explosion. As soon as the echoes of the tremendous roar had ceased a canon sought by reassuring words to quiet the people, but in vain.

They fled in all directions, and a number of women fainted. The cathedral is so large, however, that there was ample room for the crowd to scatter, and no one was injured. No trace of the perpetrator of the deed has been found.

Since St. Anacletus, who was ordained by Peter himself, erected an oratory in 90 A. D., on the site of the present basilica to mark the spot where the remains of St. Peter are buried, no such dastardly occurrence is noted in the annals of the church.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the dedication of the basilica to St. Peter, and it was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Holy relics were exposed and a large number of the faithful attended the services.

Cardinal Rampolla, took part in the service in the choir chapel. The last mass had just been concluded when the explosion occurred, and only one canon, who had not quite finished, remained at the altar of St. Petronilla. This altar is at the end of the right aisle, and it was near here that the bomb had been placed.

As the canon turned to bless the communicants there was a tremendous roar, like a thunderclap. At the same time a dense smoke spread throughout this portion of the basilica, and a strong odor of gunpowder filled the air. Confusion and panic at once seized the people. The canon at the altar tried to stem the tide of fear. He shouted out:

These words, however, had little effect, and the people continued their headlong fight. The screams of children and cries of anguish were heard on all sides, and for a few moments it seemed as if nothing could prevent a grave disaster.

Yesterday afternoon the explosion of a firecracker in the new tunnel, above which stands the Quirinal, caused considerable excitement and alarm, people fearing another bomb outrage.

The Pontiff's first act upon being assured that no one had been killed or injured was to invoke mercy for the miscreant who committed the outrage.

Within an hour after the explosion the Pope, though pale and visibly affected, gave audience to more than 200 people.

The bomb which had been placed in St. Peter's evidently consisted of a large tin box bound tightly together with wire of two sizes. It must have contained over two pounds of gunpowder and three pounds of nails. The nails were enveloped in newspapers dated November 16 and 17, proving that the bomb was prepared either Saturday or yesterday.

A three-day service of prayer will be celebrated in all the churches in expiation of this offense to religion.

This bomb explosion makes the third anarchist outrage in Italy in four days, the other two being the murder of Professor Rossi in Naples yesterday and the explosion of a bomb in front of the Cafe Aragno in Rome on November 14.

The R., F. & P. Presidency.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 19.—The conference held at the Capitol today between State and railroad officials over the R., F. & P. presidency situation resulted in no final decision. The matter was not gone into, the railroad people asking until December 10 to consider. The stockholders will meet on December 11th and the conference will act on the previous day.

Marine Disaster.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—Between forty and forty-five persons are known to have lost their lives as a result of a collision between the Alaska steamer Jeanie and the river steamer Dix, at Alki Point.

Charles Dennison, mate of the Dix, is charged with responsibility for the wreck by Captain Lermond and Captain P. H. Mason, masters of the Dix and Jeanie. Mate Dennison, who was at the wheel temporarily in charge of the Dix and in the capacity of master, deliberately approached from astern and tried to cross the bow of the Jeanie.

The Jeanie is a steamer of over 1,000 tons, much larger than the passenger-laden river boat, and withstood the shock with less damage. The Jeanie cut the Dix nearly in two, and she sank instantly. Most of the Dix's passengers were residents of the mill town of Port Blakely, nine miles across the sound from Seattle.

Of seven women and girls aboard the Dix, only one, Alice Simpson, 14 years old, escaped.

The Jeanie with her crew and 300 tons of Alaska ore consigned to the Tacoma smelter, left Smith Cove and the Dix set out from her berth ten minutes later. The wharves are about two miles apart. Captain Mason says he saw the Dix astern and on his port, but coming up fast. She continued to increase her speed as if to cross the Jeanie's bows. Seeing this Captain Mason hailed the Dix: "What are you trying to do? What do you mean?" This was heard by passengers on the Dix as well as nearly every member of the crew of the Jeanie.

Seeing that the Dix kept up her effort to cross the bow, Captain Mason signalled full speed astern, but it was too late. The Jeanie struck the Dix on the starboard side amidships, almost cutting her in two. She clung for a second only, but long enough for eight or ten passengers to leap to the Jeanie or cling to her side until they could be hauled aboard.

The force of the collision swung the Dix around onto the Jeanie's starboard bow. The Dix rolled over to port, righted, and listed slightly to starboard and then went down stern first. Many of the passengers jumped overboard, though doubtless a score or more went down with the boat, not having the slightest chance for their lives. Captain Mason lowered two life boats from the Jeanie with the greatest dispatch.

The Gillette Trial.

Herkimer, N. Y. Nov. 19.—The story of the love tragedy of Grace Brown, whose body was found in the waters of Big Moose Lake, was unfolded today when the taking of testimony was commenced in the trial of Chester E. Gillettee, charged with the girl's murder. Girls who worked in the Cortland shirt factory, where Grace Brown first met the defendant, told the jury that Gillette never appeared in the house with her. District Attorney Ward is handling the case in narrative form, starting from the first relationship of Gillette and Grace Brown and closing with the death of the girl and the arrest of Gillette.

Mrs. H. C. Carey, of East Orange, N. J., who with her husband had a camp on the lake, will testify that the evening of the tragedy she heard Grace Brown's death cries over the lake. It was too dark to see, and Mrs. Carey will be unable to tell from whom the cries came.

Gillette's nerve is fast weakening, and when Frank T. Brown, father of his alleged victim, was called to the stand today, the first witness for the State, the young man's nervousness was apparent to everyone in the packed court room. He sat biting his finger nails and casting sidelong glances at the father of the murdered girl without once looking squarely at him.

The father's testimony was comparatively unimportant, serving simply to show the close relations between Gillette and Miss Brown.

The testimony of Mrs. Hawley, the eldest sister of the dead girl, was along the same lines. Several employes of the shirt factory were called to testify to Grace Brown's attachment for Gillette and his mistreatment of her.

Alarm in Rome.

Rome, Nov. 19.—Rome is in a panic today following the attempt to blow up St. Peter's yesterday, the assassination of Prof. Rossi at Naples and a reported bomb outrage at the Quirinal, the royal palace. It is believed a gang of the most desperate anarchists in the world is operating in the city.

There is no doubt that the bomb at St. Peter's was intended for the Pope.

Added alarm due to the assassination of Prof. Rossi at Naples has been caused by the assassin, who escaped, sending word that he intends to kill another professor and that Rossi's funeral will be the occasion.

The famous church suffered little from the explosion. Today it was almost impossible to discover any traces of damage. Fire started in the scaffolding erected over the tomb of Clement XIII., while repairs are being made to the roof of the building, but it was extinguished before serious damage had been done.

Today there is the greatest activity in police circles to prevent further anarchistic outrages. At the Vatican special arrangements have been made for the protection of the Pope. Orders have been given that the strictest discrimination must be exercised in admitting visitors to the Vatican.

Tornado in Tennessee.

Memphis, Tenn. Nov. 19.—Reports slowly coming in from the storm-swept portion of Central Mississippi indicate that the tornado Saturday night and yesterday was one of the worst in the history of the State. Great damage was done to crops. The tornado was followed by torrents of rain. A number of towns along the Southern Railway and directly in the path of the storm are shut in and all efforts to reach them by telephone or telegraph have availed nothing.

One woman and her child were at Techula. A tree blown down on their house, which caught fire and the mother and baby were crushed to death and then cremated.

The property loss is extensive.

At Winone, the Christian Church, the Catholic Church, the colored Methodist Church, opera house, postoffice, a number of fine residences, were laid in ruins. All of them were brick buildings.

New York Horse Show.

New York, Nov. 19.—The annual horse show, the event that ushers in New York's society season, was opened with all eclat today at Madison Square Garden. Four hundred horses stepped on the tan bark yesterday, when a red coated bugler blew a long blast on a coaching horn, and the parade of horses marked the opening of the show. Society folk from Frisco to Maine are in the city to attend the exhibition. Dressmakers say that never before has fashion been gowned so lavishly and gorgeously as it will be in this show. From over the seas Miss Jean Reid, the daughter of Ambassador Reid, of the Court of St. James, has come to take the post of honor in the new and classic event, the Ladies' Four-in-Hand Driving Club. One of the stunning gowns of the horse show will be worn by Mrs. J. B. Haggin, a wonderful empire dress known as Byzantine, a popular model of the French dressmakers' art. The material is liberty satin in an old blue shade with a small round yoke of real Point de Venice lace from which is a collar of burnt orange velvet. This year's programme shows a decided increase in the number of entries. There are about 1400 in all.

The Crapsey Case.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—The court of review of the second department has sustained the decision of the diocesan court of Western New York diocese, finding the Rev. Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey, of Rochester, guilty of heresy. From this decision there is no appeal and Dr. Crapsey must surrender his pulpit until his views on certain subjects, held to be in violation of the church creed, change. Bishop Walker announced the decision. Dr. Crapsey was convicted in April last at Batavia, of holding opinions inimical to Episcopal dogmas and of controverting Episcopal doctrines. It was charged that Dr. Crapsey doubted the immaculate conception of Christ and questioned the doctrine of the resurrection.

The honeymoon will be spent on the blind millionaire's yacht with an orchestra from the best Italian theatres.

B. & O. R. R.

Baltimore, Nov. 19.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad took place this morning in their new building. The old board was elected unanimously. As one of these was Edward H. Harriman, the man who, it is believed, has gained control of the road, it is said that all the present officials are acceptable to him, and Oscar G. Murray will very likely continue in the presidency when the appointments are made by the board of directors.

Sarah Bernhardt.

Paris, Nov. 19.—With artistic disregard of money, Sarah Bernhardt has dissipated the earnings of her last American tour and more recent engagements, and is sadly embarrassed financially. The lights were put out on the engine and the journey over the single track road was made without a mishap. There is no clue to the engine thieves.

New York Stock Market.

There was the same heavy profit-taking sales in the stock market this morning as all through last week. Declines were attributed to a supply of stock from this source. At noon the entire list was firm and a majority of the stocks traded in were ½ to 4 points above Saturday's closing figures.

Strike at Jamestown.

Without the least warning, the union carpenters, bricklayers, painters, plumbers, and lathers employed on the Virginia Building at the Jamestown Exposition grounds on Saturday laid down their tools and walked out in sympathy with the striking electrical workers, who refuse to work for the subcontractor for the electrical wiring, because he has a strike in his shop in Norfolk and is, the union men allege, employing nonunion men on the exposition building. Though not officially stated, it is declared that the governor's patience is almost exhausted because of the unnecessary delays caused by labor troubles on the exposition, and he is quoted as saying, by a member of the Virginia commission, that he will use troops, if necessary, to prevent undue interference with the work on the buildings.

A Drunken Nurse.

A colored nurse, was fined $10 in the Police Court in Richmond on Saturday for being drunk and endangering the life of a child. She dropped the child in front of a heavily loaded dray and it would have been killed had not a young man rescued it. The man refused to return the child to the nurse, and a negro who attempted to take it from him in behalf of the drunken nurse was knocked down by the young man. An officer placed the woman under arrest. When Justice Crutchfield heard the charge against the woman in the Police Court he delivered a severe arraignment in passing sentence. He said: "Drunk on the street were you? Drunk, with a little helpless baby in your care. I am sorry there is no ordinance provided for cases like yours; there ought to be. Hanging is too good for this offense."

Rev. Father O'Hara, of the Apostolic Mission House, Brookland, D. C., delivered the sermon yesterday evening at the vesper services at St. Mary's Church. His theme was "Christian Heritage." A large congregation was present. Gregorian music was rendered by an augmented choir, under the direction of Mr. P. F. Downey.

The services last night in the Methodist Episcopal Church South were well-attended. The pastor, Rev. Charles D. Bulls, delivered the first of a series of sermons to young men. His subject was: "Is the Young Man Safe? No—If he is Aimless."

The pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church was occupied by Rev. D. W. Hollingsworth, of Hinton, W. Va. The reverend gentleman is a grandson of Rev. David Wills, who has on several occasions recently preached in the Second Church. Mr. Hollingsworth's sermons were greatly enjoyed. A congregational meeting will be held next Sunday morning for the purpose of calling a pastor, should the way be clear.

The pulpits of the other churches were occupied by the resident clergy.

Held Company Responsible.

Coroner Ashton, of Alexandria county, yesterday held an inquest at Del Ray for the purpose of ascertaining the facts in connection with the death of Wm. E. Fuller, who was struck and killed by a Southern Railway locomotive yesterday week. According to the evidence Fuller, while on duty, jumped from a south-bound train in the Potomac yards, and as he did so he was run down by an engine on an adjoining track. It was testified by witnesses that the engine carried no headlight, although it was still dark, and did not whistle or ring its bell. Engineer Hamilton, who was in the cab of the locomotive which struck Fuller, said that he had seen the man on the track when about 100 yards away, and had sounded the whistle, rung the bell, and applied the emergency brakes. He said the engine, which was backing, was provided with lights on the tender. The failure to stop in time, the witness said, was due to wet tracks. Another railroad man who was on the engine gave testimony in the main corrobating the engineer's statement. The verdict of the jury held the Southern Railway responsible for Fuller's death.

A Terrible Forecast.

Twenty-nine of the largest American cities to be wiped off the face of the earth within the next two years—New York and Washington, and incidentally Alex[illegible] Pittsburg and Richmond included—is the prophecy made by Edmund Scribner Stevens, of Washington, self-styled prognosticator, astrologer and royally appointed regent of King Cyrus the Great, for whom he says he will act until the long dead ruler revisits the world. Denver, London, Paris and Rome are equally doomed. It's a question whether Baltimore will be left on the map. "The world is in the throes of an upheaval which will eventually right the earth and make the North Pole north and the South Pole south. Instead of having the earth's axis on a slant," says the aged prophet, "that upheaval will cause flood, fire and earthquake, and most of the large cities of the world are going to suffer; some of them will be destroyed."

Pistol Shot.

A pistol shot was heard shortly before 11 o'clock last night in the court bounded by Prince, Duke, Columbus and Alfred streets. By direction of Lieutenant Smith, Officer Arrington made an investigation, but he was unable to ascertain who discharged the pistol or the cause. This morning Officer Beach continued the investigation with no better result. An umbrella (hoisted) with the name "H. Burke" on the handle was found near the place where the shots are said to have been fired. Later in the day it was ascertained that a colored boy named Harry Burke living at 517 north Columbus street, was shot at by an unknown white man. The ball whizzed close to the boy's head, and he dropped his umbrella and fled. The father of the boy went to the station house today and identified the umbrella as the property of his son.

Charged with Picking Pocket.

Officers Roberts and Jones yesterday arrested Private Alva Thurman at Fort Hunt on suspicion of having picked the pocket of a rich New Yorker, whose name is not known to the police, and robbing him of a gold watch and a diamond-studded Masonic emblem. The stolen articles, which were recovered by the officers, were sold to a soldier for $60. Thurman was brought to this city. He denies having stolen the jewelry and claims he found it near the platform at Hunter's station on the electric railway. The case was called in the Police Court this morning when Thurman was turned over to a sergeant at Fort Hunt where he has a term to serve in the guard house. When this shall have expired he will be turned over to the Fairfax authorities.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Frank Williams, arrested by Chief Goods charged with being drunk and carrying concealed weapons; was fined $50.

Alva Thurman, arrested by Officers Roberts and Jones charged with stealing a gold watch, chain and charm, was held for the action of the Fairfax authorities.

Two horses, taken up astray, were held for identification by the owner.

The weather yesterday was rainy and at times uncomfortably warm. During last night there were several showers. Shortly before day this morning there was a heavy downpour which choked some of the sewers.

Mr. Rixey.

Some of the papers in the Eighth congressional district have been erroneously making the statement that Mrs. J. F. Rixey has gone to Colorado to join Mr. Rixey, and that they would both remain there until the first of December. Some other papers, enlarging on this statement, have stated that Mr. Rixey was very ill in Colorado, and Mrs. Rixey had been summoned there. Mr. Rixey has not been ill in Colorado, and Mrs. Rixey has not gone there. On the contrary Mr. Rixey returned from Colorado over a week ago improved in health. He is now in New York consulting a throat specialist. This specialist is very encouraging and says that the trouble is confined entirely to the throat, and that it will yield to treatment. Mr. Rixey is expected back in Washington soon and will be in his seat in the House when Congress meets.

Rechabites.

Persevance Tent, No. 1098, I. O. of R., at their regular meeting tonight will be visited by Purity Tent, No. 4, of the District of Columbia. The latter will be accompanied by a delegation from the Past Chief-Rulers' Association. An interesting meeting is promised all who attend. There will be 6 or 8 initiations. Perseverance Tent is now in a prosperous condition, with a large membership, which is growing at every meeting. On the night of Thursday, Nov. 29th., this tent will give an open meeting to their friends at their hall, on south Fairfax street. The entertainment will consist of a musical and literary programme and the committee in charge promises a pleasant evening to all who attend.

Sent Out of the City.

William Johnson, alias Frederick Lewis, colored, was arrested yesterday by Officer Sherwood on suspicion of stealing the canopy from Mr. August Calmes's steam launch. He was brought before the Police Court this morning when it was ascertained that early yesterday morning the darkey was found by some citizens on the wharf asleep and wrapped up in the canopy. The station house was notified when Lieutenant Smith sent Officer Sherwood after the negro. Johnson is from Trinidad and last week he was arrested on suspicion of stealing a gun, but was released, as the complainant failed to appear. Justice Caton sent the prisoner out of the city.

Lost His Check.

Mr. E. N. Thorne, of Midland, on Saturday last sold a horse to Mr. F. S. Harper, receiving therefor a check for $145. He later lost the check, and was considerably worried in consequence, fearing it would be found and the amount collected by the finder. The banks were closed when Mr. Thorne discovered his loss, and although he was assured that the payment of the check would be stopped, his anxiety continued. As soon as the doors of the bank upon which the check was drawn were opened this morning the officers were notified of the loss of the check.

Concert.

There will be a concert and physical culture drill on Friday, November, 23, at 8 o'clock p. m., in the lecture room of the Methodist Protestant Church, under the direction of the Misses Blanche and Edith Rotchford and pupils of 1906. No comment need be made on this concert, as it goes without saying, that the Misses Rotchford never enter into anything except to make it a grand success, as they have already successfully proved themselves to be thoroughly competent and capable, on former occasions.

German Club.

The Alexandria German Club was organized last week, and arrangements were made for a number of entertainments this season, the first to be given Friday, November 30. The committee is composed of Dr. Thomas B. Cochran, chairman; Mr. Arthur Herbert, jr., secretary and treasurer; Judge Louis C. Barley, Messrs. Harry Beverley, Douglass Stuart, James Douglas, Eugene B. Taylor, and Marshall L. King.

Death of Mr. Atkins.

Mr. Joseph L. Atkins, for the past 43 years manager for the late Frank Hume, in the conducting of his large grocery business in Washington, died this morning at Providence Hospital, Washington, aged 62 years. Mr. Atkins was well and favorably known to a large circle of friends in this city, who are deeply grieved to hear of his death. Funeral arrangements have not as yet been completed.

The ring fell to the share of Mrs. Alfred Thomson, the dime to Mr. John Agnew and whoever received the darning needle refused to confess.

No Locomotives in Washington.

Steam engines will be prohibited entrance to the District of Columbia on the completion of the new union station, in Washington. The Commissioners of the District of Columbia yesterday took final action in an order prohibiting the use of anything but electric engines in drawing trains into the new union station. This applies to all railroads entering the city and is made in the interest of the anti-smoke crusade which has waged in Washington for several years.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The ladies of Grace Episcopal Church will give an oyster supper and bazaar at Odd Fellows' Hall, north Columbus street, Tuesday evening.

Cassie Thomas, colored, sixty years of age, of this city, fell upon the sidewalk in Washington, Saturday, and received a painful injury to the back of her head. She was taken to the Emergency Hospital for treatment.

George Brown, colored, an employee at the Potomac railroad yards, north of this city, had his left hand seriously mashed while at work on the coal chute at that place last Saturday. It was at first supposed that it would be necessary to amputate the fingers and the thumb, but Dr. Smith, after having examined the injuries, deemed this course unnecessary.

A locomotive while being "jacked up" in the Southern Railway round house last Saturday fell into the pit under it. A workman who was in the pit escaped injury. The engine was considerably damaged.

MONDAY EVENING. NOV. 19, 1906.

The City of Great Britain.

Unless we command the sea we cannot keep open the roads by which our people are fed. Britain has in effect ceased to be a country. She is now, considered from the political and military point of view, a city, though a city with very large parks and pleasaunces and kitchen gardens in which to grow her flowers, fruits and vegetables. A city, from the point of view of war, may be described as a place which if besieged long enough must fall, since supplies once consumed cannot be replenished. Britain answers to this description. The moment the sea roads to her are closed by an enemy she is, ipso facto, in a state of siege. Face to face with a need so imminent, it would be madness for us to give any consideration to what we hope or believe are the intentions of this or that foreign power. All that we can rightly do in considering how to secure our national safety and independence is to count ships and guns and to compute the units of naval efficiency.—London Spectator.

A Shooting Gallery Secret.

"Do you see this glass ball?" said the shooting gallery man. It was a ball of hollow glass, an airy glass soap bubble, that had swung all season at the end of a thread in the foreground of the clay pipes, bells and what not that had made up the gallery's targets. "This glass ball," the man went on, "is my great money maker. All season long people tried to hit this ball—it was bigger and nearer than any other target—and everybody failed. Thousands of bullets were fired at the ball, thousands of nickels were spent on it, yet here it is, still untouched, my best breadwinner. All wise shooting gallery men have a glass ball like this. It makes such a tempting target, yet it is never hit. It is never hit because the air that precedes a gun charge is sufficient to blow the ball aside, out of the way. You might fire a hundred shots at it, but, like a living thing, like a timid soldier, for instance, it would dodge each shot."

Mary Anderson's Voice.

Miss Anderson's voice was always her predominant charm. Certain tones in it—so thrilling, so full of wild passion and inexpressible melancholy—went straight to the heart and brought tears into the eyes. The voice is the exponent of the soul. You can paint your face, you can pad your person, you can wear a wig, you can walk in shoes that augment your height, you can in various ways change your body, but your voice will sooner or later reveal you as you are. Just as the style of the writer discloses his character, so the quality of the voice discloses the actor's nature. It seems unlikely that Miss Anderson's melting, tragic tones were uttered in any of her girlish impartments, but the copious, lovely voice was there, and it gained her first victory.—William Winter in Saturday Evening Post.

Running as Exercise.

The fact that a person is capable of doing the best running and speed walking before the thirtieth year need not lead those who have passed the third decade to think that they are on the down grade of life, says an authority. These exercises call for elasticity of the arteries, and that lessens soon after the thirtieth year, but powers of endurance increase in the well preserved man or woman up to fifty or fifty-five or even later. Soldiers of fifty are like leather and can perform feats of endurance that would kill the stripling, and the same is true of women.

Blue Eyes.

That the color of the eyes should affect their strength may seem strange, yet that such is the case need not at this time of day be doubted, and those whose eyes are brown or dark colored should be informed that they are weaker and more susceptible to injury from various causes than gray or blue eyes. Light blue eyes are generally the most powerful, and next to those are gray. The lighter the pupil the greater and longer continued is the degree of tension the eye can sustain.

A Brave Singer.

"I tell you," said one man to another as they emerged from the dimly lighted corridor of a concert hall, "I envy that fellow who was singing."
"Envy him!" echoed the other. "Well, if I were going to envy a singer I'd select somebody with a better voice. His was about the poorest I ever heard."

She's the "It."

The Lancashire clergyman who recently left the word "obey" out of the marriage service gives as his reason that he does not wish women to start married life at a disadvantage. But it really matters little in practice. It has long been understood that, though a man and his wife are one, the wife is that one.—London Globe.

A Good Laugh.

Every hearty laugh tends to prolong life, as it makes the blood flow more rapidly and gives a new and different stimulus to all the organs of the body from what is in force at the other times. The saying, "Laugh and grow fat," has therefore a foundation in fact.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fouts, Postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, weakness and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful Tonic. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. 50 cents.
